Course Description

This comprehensive course will focus on joint preservation techniques in foot and ankle surgery. Attendees will have the ability to listen to short lectures, case discussions and view cadaveric demonstrations throughout the course. All participants will have the opportunity to translate techniques taught in the course through a hands-on cadaveric bio-skills lab with faculty.

Focus Products & Procedures

- Modified Brostrom with Draught
- Achilles Tendon Repair with X-Twist
- Syndesmosis Repair with Synd-EZ

Travel & Accommodations

Anika will directly book and pay for attendees' hotel rooms on Friday night (limited to room/taxes). Rooms must be reserved under the Anika room block. In the event an attendee wishes to stay beyond Friday night, the additional cost is incurred by the attendee directly. Further, Anika cannot guarantee room availability or that the group rate would be available beyond the single night.

Anika will cover the costs of attendees' flights. Flights must be booked through Anika's travel agent. Flights will be arranged to ensure attendees are able to attend the full course and depart on the same day if reasonable flight options are available. Should attendees wish to choose other flight options, Anika's travel agent will accommodate attendee requests and Anika will pay up to the cost of the reasonable same day flight at the time of booking, but additional charges to attendees may apply.
